

TRAIN DETECTION WARNING SYSTEM

at your level
crossing

RED
Do Not
Cross

ORANGE
Cross With
Caution

ALWAYS EXPECT A TRAIN

Iarnród Éireann has installed a train detection warning system at selected level crossings

The objective of this system is:

- (i) to provide you with information about the approach of trains, and
- (ii) to help you decide when to cross the railway line.

Level crossing gates will remain in position and must be operated in compliance with current arrangements.

This system is not intended to assist level crossing users with movements of slow, heavy, low slung and cumbersome vehicles or herds of animals across the railway line. You should continue to make special arrangements with Iarnród Éireann for such movements, using the Freephone number found on signage.

In the event that the system is faulty please report the fault to the Freephone number on the red sign

ALWAYS EXPECT A TRAIN

Instructions for using the Train Detection Warning System

RED
Do Not
Cross

ORANGE
Cross With
Caution

NEVER cross the railway line when the RED indicator light shows

1. Open first gate, ensuring it is safe to do so
2. If indicator light is RED, or audio warning tone sounds DO NOT CROSS
3. If indicator light is ORANGE, open second set of gates. DO NOT CROSS if indicator light has changed to RED
4. ALWAYS close both gates after you if the indicator light is orange, and check that a train is not approaching before doing this – it's the law.

NEVER CROSS THE RAILWAY LINE WHEN THE INDICATOR LIGHT IS RED

In the event of a fault, such as no red or orange indication light showing or no audible warning tone sounding, please follow the instructions on the red 'Live Railway Crossing' sign before crossing the railway line.

 DANGER
